AGRIUM FRUITS

GROWING WITH CARE.

Our company has years of experience in growing berries on our own plantations.

The secret to the quality of our berries is that they are produced on small family plantations and hand-picked.

We personally know each person from whom we purchase the berries because they are our neighbors, relatives or our employees' family members. This way we build mutual trust, manage the produce and increase its quality.

Our modern and well-equipped cold storage is located in the very centre of raw material base

Since our goal is to produce only fruit of exceptional quality, in addition to our own raspberry plantations, we sub-contract neighboring farmers.
